

TEACH PRIDE

WE DON'T TRAIN TEACHERS — WE TRAIN GREAT TEACHERS.

Baltimore City Teaching Residency transforms talented people into great teachers for disadvantaged students. Teaching is an honor and a tremendous responsibility, which is why we hold the highest standards of any teacher preparation program.

WHO WE ARE

Operated by TNTP, a national leader in advancing great teaching, Baltimore City Teaching Residency has trained more than 1,750 teachers since 2002. Residents come from all walks of life and learn to teach critical subjects such as math, science and special education.

Every day, Residents change lives. It's not easy to defy the odds, and great teaching doesn't happen overnight. But our teachers develop the skills to hit the ground running on day one and have the passion to continue improving for years to come.

WHAT WE OFFER

Classroom-Centered Training: Residents train like pro athletes, with hands-on practice, classroom-centered coursework and intensive coaching from expert educators. It's transformational training to make you a transformational teacher.

High Standards for Certification: Only teachers who demonstrate the ability to master key skills and help students learn earn certification. Upon graduating, you'll be recognized as having a proven record of classroom success.

Full Salary and Benefits: While pursuing certification, Residents work full-time and earn a full teacher's salary, plus comprehensive benefits.

Trusted Program. After more than a decade in Baltimore, Residents represent 13% of the city's total teaching force. Principals and district officials trust that Residents have the skills to help students make dramatic learning gains.

WHO WE WANT

We look for accomplished professionals and recent graduates who aren't yet certified as educators, but who possess the skills to teach high-need subjects.

- Must be authorized to work in the U.S.
- Must be able to pass an FBI background investigation
- Must not be a certified teacher
- Must have a minimum 2.75 cumulative undergraduate GPA

"I grew a lot as a first-year teacher. Training is intense, but the most useful thing is getting actual teaching experience and immediate feedback. Everything we learned was connected to real-world teaching."

— Matt Piwowarczyk
2011 Resident

"My job is to connect the material to real world experiences so that my students truly enjoy learning. I am grateful every day for that opportunity."

— Alana Purvis
2012 Resident
