

Congratulations!

The following Language, Literacy and Culture Doctoral Students are graduating on May 20, 2015:

Emerald Christopher-Byrd, The Love and Marriage Playbook: Contemporary Guidelines for Black Women in Relationship Advice Literature (Chair: Michelle Scott)

Latasha Eley, #Teamlightskin Vs. #Teamdarkskin, #Teamnatural Vs. #Teamrelaxed: Black Women's Experiences of Skin Hue and Hair Politics in College (Co-Chairs: Beverly Bickel and Kimberly Moffitt)

Emek Ergun, *Doing Feminist Translation as Local and Transnational Activism: The Turkish Translation of Virgin: The Untouched History and Its Reception* (Chair: Carole McCann)

Hui Chih (Hilda) Huang, Variational Pragmatics of Mandarin Chinese: A Comparative Study of Gossip in China and Taiwan Sitcoms with Implications for the CSL Classroom (Co-Chairs: Thomas Field and Ana Oskoz)

Romy Hübler, From Isolation to Participation: Engaged Graduate Education (Co-Chairs: Beverly Bickel and Joby Taylor)

Satarupa Joardar, Twitter and Mainstream Media Discourses of a Social Movement: An Exploratory Case Study of the Indian Anti-Corruption Movement of 2011 (Co-Chairs: Craig Saper and Beverly Bickel)

Kelly Lynch, Unveiling Anti-Immigrant Discourse in Popular Online News Reporting of Immigration Reform (Chair: Jennifer Maher)

Masibonge Ian L. Ngidi-Brown, Through the Lens of uBuntu: Inclusive, Critically Diverse, and Locally Derived Transformation Efforts in a South African Bank (Co-Chairs: Beverly Bickel and Omar Ka)

Uzma Abdul Rashid, Exploring Muslim Women: A Qualitative Study of the Construction of Gendered Religious Identities among Graduates of an Islamic School (Chair: Mavis G. Sanders)