Communication

Our Executive Board placed the improvement of communication at the top of our list. In the previous year, we had problems arise with the knowledge of NRHH not just on campus, but also within our own membership. This year, we worked diligently to provide constant and effective feedback to the general membership at our bi-weekly general body meetings. Moreover, we completely redesigned our chapter website, much thanks to our Vice President of Recognition. All membership can look at the website to read recent updates, download chapter minutes, recommend new members, and submit OTMs. The main page of the website also includes a list of OTM winners and list of active members for the current academic year. Furthermore, we also created a chapter myUMBC group through our school website. It is yet another way to reach the campus population regarding NRHH news and for the promotion of OTMs.

In addition, as part of our commitment to the region, our Chapter President was in regular contact with the current AD NRHH. Our chapter membership was constantly aware of regional and national initiatives at general body meetings. The Chapter President gave regular presentations about new NRHH projects as well. We were also able to contribute ideas and brainstorm new avenues by participating in NRHH boardrooms at conferences. We felt that our best practices in our chapter could be shared with other chapters in order to improve overall involvement. Our Chapter President was active in the conversations about membership selection, induction ceremonies, and regional improvements. Most of the ideas shared have been traditions in our own Chapter, specifically the end of year OTM celebrations and honor cord requirements. In addition, our Chapter adapted some of the ideas from other campuses to our activities this year. We plan to include “apple polishers” for leadership at our end-of-year banquet and to begin celebrating National Residence Hall Month with small service projects. Our support for the regional level has culminated with the election of our Chapter President to AD NRHH for next year.

Our old Chapter website (left) was a single page in stark white that had not been updated in years. Our new website (right) has multiple pages with professional graphics and is updated at every General Body Meeting. With the black background for the content section, it is also more energy efficient.

UMBC NRHH Building Block Award

UMBC's myUMBC web portal was updated during Summer 2010 and our Chapter immediately took advantage of some of the new features it offered. First among these was the Groups interface, which gives our Chapter a profile on UMBC from which we can publish news articles, advertise events, and spotlight upcoming deadlines and service opportunities.

Lastly, we opened a Facebook page to encourage participation in service events on our campus. Most of our Chapter's members have joined the page to hear about service events on a regular basis. It has allowed us to invite other residents to participate in service events. In addition, we opened an application Facebook page to reach more residents on campus for membership. We posted the link to our website for easy access to the application.

Support

Office of Residential Life

Our NRHH Chapter has strong ties to the Office of Residential Life. We have developed this relationship for over fifteen years. We have continued that tradition over the years in order to serve our student leaders living on campus, as well as encourage student leadership, more effectively.

This past semester, we collaborated with Residential Life to bring the "Adopt a Family" service project back to campus. The NRHH Executive Board took a large leadership role in the project from the very beginning. We organized our strategy to allow each of the residential halls and apartment communities to "adopt" a family and provide presents for the upcoming holiday season. As a chapter, we felt that we could revive this project because there were different scales of service occurring. Every resident can participate in small ways, while still making a large impact on the surrounding community. You could donate a gift, participate in wrapping the gifts, or spend the afternoon at Anna's House. Overall, we were able to provide ten families with wrapped gifts for the holiday season so that no one would be without a happy holiday! The Office of Residential Life was able to support the Chapter in choosing Anna's House in Harford County, Maryland. We received direction and guidance from the Community Development Coordinator.

Furthermore, during the month of April, the Office supports us in celebrating National Residence Hall Month (NRHM) as part of the overall national initiative. We have planned two service events and a recognition program in support of NRHM. The Resident Assistants, Desk Staff, and Community Directors have all been educated about the importance of NRHM.

In addition to service projects, we also look to the Office of Residential Life to help us inform the campus community about our organization. We took time out of our schedules to talk with all of the professional staff, as well as invite them to our activities. Many of our professional staff has been inducted as honorary members over the years. Moreover, many staff members encourage their Resident Assistants, Desk Staff, and Maintenance Assistants to submit OTMs on a monthly basis. Last, but not least, we look to our professional staff to recommend potential candidates for membership in our chapter at the end of every semester.

Everybody's Favorite Resident: The Resident Student Association

The UMBC Chapter of NRHH and Resident Student Association have always worked together, in some capacity, to accomplish common goals for students in our residential communities. In previous years, however, the relationship between NRHH and RSA has been unclear, especially in the ties between both organizations. Previously, the connection between NRHH and RSA related strictly to budgeting purposes, as the budget for NRHH is included within RSA's budget. However, NRHH has many more connections to RSA on a regular basis. Now, the Executive Boards of both NRHH and RSA collaborate in order to create a unified group of student leaders that advocate, recognize, and serve the community in which they live. Moreover, the NRHH President also serves on the RSA Executive Board as the Director of Service and Recognition. This position allows the organizations to grow together and have open lines of communication.

The connection between RSA and NRHH is more than just at the executive board level. RSA supports our Chapter in service and recognition on an individual level as well. First of all, RSA played a large role in the Adopt-a-family program, participated in our Relay for Life team, and funded a service event for National Residence Hall Month. On the other hand, as part of recognition, we announce all of our OTMs at RSA general body meetings.

In May, we plan to collaborate with RSA for Donation Day. This is a residential campus initiative to “clean” and donate all unwanted items to Goodwill before moving out. Residents often have unwanted items or items that they cannot fit into their vehicles. This is an opportunity not to be wasteful. Lastly, we will celebrate and recognize our membership at our joint End-of-Year Banquet in early May. All of these achievements are proof of the solid relationship between NRHH and RSA.

Regional and National Levels

NRHH did not only want to continue to build relationships on campus, but also on the regional and national levels. Our chapter has participated in all regional conferences with at least the NRHH President in attendance. Some of the conference delegations included other Executive Board members and general body members. In addition, we attended the last national conference and participated in the National Business meeting. We plan on attending national conference again this summer, as well as submit programs in the leadership track.

Moreover, in order to keep lines of communication open between local chapters and the regional leadership, our chapter suggested the creation of a “Dropbox” account for CAACURH NRHH. This is an online database provided for no cost to the user. It allows all subscribers to participate in forums and share documents in a safe and organized fashion. Furthermore, the database keeps a copy of all documents submitted to create a time capsule of sorts. The current AD for NRHH and Recognition has been able to create and maintain a folder for CAACURH NRHH. She has provided all of the documentation for bidding and conference materials. This will serve as a useful resource for chapters of all sizes as well as allow for transparency between current NRHH Chapters. Our chapter intends to maintain a Dropbox for ourselves in order to make transitioning to a new Executive Board a smoother process.

Furthermore, we have participated in recognition efforts at the regional level. Our current President and Vice President of Service serve on the Regional OTM Committee. We have also provided a copy of our OTM submission guideline packet. We are in the process of producing a video about OTMs and OTM training to benefit all member schools. We are also highlighting OTMs during the celebration of National Residence Hall Month. Our simple recognition program involves “You’re a Star” cards. These handmade cards will be randomly given to residents seen doing great acts of service or leadership.

Goals and Objectives

One of the goals of the new Executive Board as we began over the summer was that we each had individual goals and objectives for our position. The NRHH President encouraged goal setting from the initial transition meeting in July. Every Executive Board member was expected to have personal and positional goals. These goals could be related to the Executive Board member's committee. In previous years, goals for the chapter were defined by the Executive Board as a whole. This often caused problems because the goals were lofty and hard to accomplish. Moreover, the goals were not personal and there was a lack of commitment to the improvement of the chapter. With the addition of personal and committee goals this year, the Executive Board could work on a small and large scale to improve the chapter.

Area of Concern	Situation Last Year	Goal(s)	Progress
Number of Active Members	Chapter membership was 22 people, however many were inactive or due to be placed on early alumni status.	Active membership (non-probationary or early alumni members) up to 25 people	Completed! Active membership is up to 28 people as of No Frills 2011.
Knowledge of NRHH on Campus	Few people knew what NRHH was; lack of activity as a chapter inhibited publicity.	Educate staff and students about NRHH and how to apply for membership	Doing very well! Fall 2010 was the first semester in the past several years where we did not need to extend the application deadline to get a reasonable applicant pool.
Membership Engagement	As stated above, members of NRHH were largely inactive and disillusioned about the chapter.	Allow members to be more like a "family"; give everyone something to do	Doing very well! Every member has an assignment for their committee, and attendance at meetings is much higher.
Service	NRHH was doing few service events, and those were poorly attended by members.	Increase involvement with service events on campus, as well as continue traditional projects.	Completed! NRHH took on the Adopt-a-Family project this year and has been coordinating with other organizations to hold joint service events. We will have held a total of 16 separate service events by NACURH 2011.

OTMs	OTM submissions were of poor quality and were coming in somewhat low numbers. We won 2 Regional Winners and had not won a National OTM since 2008.	Increase quantity of OTM nominations; Increase quality of OTM nominations; At least 2 Regional Winners and 1 National Winner per semester	Completed! We have received record numbers of OTM nominations in several months, and surpassed our 2009-2010 total as of March 2011. We have also won 8 Regional Winners and 2 National Winners.
Chapter Structure	Our constitution was outdated and did not reflect current practices. We found ourselves unable to adjust to exceptional circumstances as they arose.	Make amendments to the constitution and implement a system of bylaws to allow more flexibility in the future.	Completed! We have implemented a number of bylaws, included in the appendices, in addition to our constitutional updates earlier this year.
Leadership Opportunities	There was little opportunity for leadership within the chapter, and past opportunities had been dropped.	Bring back the NRHH Retreat to introduce new members to NRHH and encourage them to take a leading role in the chapter.	Completed! We have held two Retreats, once each semester; each was very helpful for new and old members alike and encouraged them to become more active in the chapter and community.
Relationship with Resident Student Association	NRHH had essentially divorced itself from RSA as much as possible, and was not connected except through their budgets.	Restore lines of communication and establish common goals	Completed! RSA and NRHH held a joint Executive Board meeting early in the semester and established goals that both organizations would work to achieve together. Our Chapter President holds and active role on the RSA Executive Board as Director of Service and Recognition.

Regional and National Involvement

Conference Participation

The conference attendance of NRHH members greatly increased from the previous year to this year. At CAACURH 2009, two NRHH representatives attended the conference; however, the NRHH President was not in attendance. This year at CAACURH 2010, six out of the eight members of the delegation were in NRHH, including the NRHH President and the Chapter Advisor. This is a significant improvement in participation and dedication from chapter members the previous year. In addition, at the CAACURH conference this year, three NRHH members, including the Chapter President, presented the first program in the NRHH boardroom entitled “How to Plan a Campus Service Event.” The members discussed different ways to participate in service to the larger community. At last year’s CAACURH conference, no one from the delegation presented a program, and it says a lot that the program presented this year was the only structured program presented during the NRHH boardroom.

NRHH has also been represented at other conferences as well. Last year, all of the members of the No-Frills 2010 delegation were also members of NRHH. Once again, the NRHH representative was not our Chapter President. The delegation did not attend in person solely due to weather conditions. Moreover, in June 2010, four NRHH members and the RSA co-advisor were part of the NACURH 2010 delegation. Everyone present at the National Business meeting was an NRHH member.

Furthermore, all members of the No Frills 2011 delegation were members of NRHH. Additionally, our NRHH Chapter President bid for the AD NRHH position on the Regional Board of Directors for the following academic year. We are very proud to say that she was successfully elected to the position. Our chapter also won the Regional Building Block of the Year award, allowing us to bid at the National level. Overall, the representation and involvement of NRHH at conferences has more than doubled from what it was previously.

Not only has our chapter had increased attendance at conferences, but also we have increased participation in recognition at the regional level. Both our NRHH President and our Vice President of Recognition currently serve on the Regional OTM Committee. To further this participation, our Chapter has decided to contribute to the NRHH Buddy program being implemented by the current AD NRHH. Our Chapter hopes to strengthen our goals and membership by learning from other chapters' best practices. We have also provided documents and other forms of support to the Regional Associate Director for NRHH as we work to create them.

Conference Presentations

With the support of our Chapter President, Yvonne Allard (NRHH Treasurer) and Preethy Prasad (RSA Director of Events and future RSA President) were encouraged to create a presentation to share past and present service events sponsored by our chapter with members of other chapters at the Fall 2010 CAACURH conference. We thought, as a chapter, that it could be difficult to find solid service projects to sponsor on campus. Therefore, we decided to provide a variety of ways for other chapters to encourage service on their individual campus. The presentation included several different ideas for service, ways to promote service, and best practices from the UMBC campus. At the end of presentation, we showed a movie we made to promote a service event called Adopt a Family. Yvonne and Preethy joined forces to create a video to advertise the service event to the UMBC residential community. The video was created to encourage the students to donate new toys that were requested by children of struggling single parents living in an apartment community in Hartford County, Maryland. Incorporated into the video were clips of a variety of UMBC students, faculty, and staff answering three questions:

1. What does community service mean to you?
2. What does the season of giving mean to you?
3. How would you feel if you did not have some of the things or people you value in your life?

The video is available online at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Qyqzp37WLa0>. After the movie finished, we invited all in attendance to participate in making paper cranes. This was a service event we completed in the past. We donated all of the homemade paper cranes to a children's hospital.

This was the first presentation in two years at a regional conference thanks to the encouragement of our Chapter President and the Resident Student Association. It gave our chapter members the opportunity to interact with other NRHH member schools, while also allowing them to present to their peers. Our presenters were rewarded for their efforts by receiving CAACURH Top Programming pins.

Recognition

Our chapter has made very large improvements in the area of recognition. We've expanded our Of The Month program and begun using new awards to recognize members of our Chapter and Community Action Boards for the outstanding work they do.

Last year, NRHH suffered a low point in the area of recognition. NRHH members were submitting the minimum number of nominations needed to maintain active membership, and there was no expected standard for the quality of nominations.

In past years, NRHH has recognized OTM winners with a party at the end of the year, including prize raffles and snacks. This year, we have had so many winners we decided to hold one party at the end of each semester.

Our efforts to work with the Resident Student Association in the recognition of Community Action Boards (CABs) were poor as well. NRHH purchased a teddy bear which was presented to a representative from a CAB once per month. The CAB receiving the bear was then expected to add something to the bear to represent their CAB and the CAB's achievement that month. Unfortunately, many CABs took far too much creative license with this. As a result, the bear had such items added to it as a belt of plastic bullets, a gang bandana, and what smelled like an entire bottle of perfume. Said perfume was so strong that nobody could bear to possess the bear for the necessary month, and so it was discarded early in the Spring 2010 semester (thus putting an end to NRHH's CAB recognition that year).

UMBC NRHH Building Block Award

During the summer Executive Board retreat in July, we decided that we wanted new ways to recognize our membership. OTMs still provide the majority of our recognition efforts, however members of our general body often are not recognized through OTMs, as they are the ones writing the majority of our OTMs. To help remedy this, our President recommended that we introduce the CARP award. CARP awards, which stand for Caring And Responsible Person, are given at least once a semester to one person in each of our chapter's five committees. As each active member is required to serve on one committee, this helps to ensure that everyone has a chance of being recognized for going above what is expected of them. CARP awards are given as certificates by each member of the Executive Board, and are well appreciated by our general body members – some still have their certificates displayed on their room doors.

At the time of our Fall OTM Party in December, UMBC had received three Regional OTMs and one National OTM. Since that time, both of these numbers have more than doubled.

NRHH has also been recognizing Community Action Boards (CABs) with the F.R.O.G. (For Recognition of Growth) and SofE (Spotlight of Excellence) awards. Given once a month by the NRHH President at Resident Student Association meetings, these awards recognize CABs that we feel have made substantial improvements within their organization or otherwise done an exceptional job of engaging their community. Unlike OTMs, where a CAB must be nominated, and often by a member of the CAB to ensure it is detailed and accurate, these awards can be given to any CAB, which again helps ensure that everyone has a chance at recognition.

NRHH has also been working to support and recognize our community in other ways. In March 2011, James Downtin Jr., a supervisor in UMBC's True Grit's Dining Hall, died of cancer. Recognition Committee member Tony DuLaney suggested that NRHH create a sympathy card to give to the dining hall staff and the deceased's family to show their support and appreciation for the work Mr. Downtin had put forth for the residential community over its years of service. By the end of the week, NRHH had delivered a large card with dozens of signatures from NRHH members and other residents to the dining hall staff.

In support of National Residence Hall Month, NRHH produced a large number of "You're A Star!" cards. Two of these cards were given to every Resident Assistant; each card had two Starburst candies taped to one side, and a large blank space on the other. Resident Assistants were asked to fill out the blank sides of these cards with some sort of appreciation for two residents of their choice, thanking those residents for outstanding service or support for their community.

It is in the Of the Month recognition program that we have made our greatest improvements, however. At the beginning of the semester, our Vice President of Recognition set a goal of getting more OTM nominations in every month of this year, at least two Regional Winners every semester of this year, and at least one National Winner all year. To ensure the success of these goals, he worked with the Recognition Committee to implement the following changes to our OTM program:

- New categories: We wanted to be able to recognize more people and programs, and make people more aware that they can really write an OTM about anything. Both of these goals were easily solved by adding five new categories to those offered at UMBC: Bulletin Board, Community Activities Board, Custodial/Maintenance, Desk Attendant, and Community Activities Board Program. In the Spring Semester, the Bulletin Board category was replaced with the new Passive Program category to allow our Chapter to forward these nominations to the Regional level.
- OTM guide: The Vice President of Recognition worked with the Recognition Committee to come up with a “Guide to OTM Writing” to help those new to writing OTMs know what they should focus on when writing a nomination. Along with explaining the OTM program, the Guide advises writers to focus on adding lots of details, month-specific information, and engaging descriptions. This guide is available online at http://www.umbc.edu/rsa/nrhh/documents/OTM\_Information.pdf and is attached to other advertisements for OTMs.
- Greater publicity: UMBC’s web portal, myUMBC, underwent a significant change at the start of this year, and we have taken full advantage of its new features. Every month, OTMs are advertised with a “Spotlight”, a rotating advertisement that appears at the top of myUMBC for the week before OTMs are due. Campus Winners are announced every week through a news article, and Regional and National Winners receive additional news articles focusing solely on them. OTM certificates are now awarded during Resident Student Association meetings, and winners are also provided with door decorations to further advertise their achievement. As with last year, email announcements are also sent out to residents about the winners from each month.

- OTM Training: In past years, NRHH and Community Action Board members have gone through a short “training” to explain how the OTM program works and how to write a successful OTM. This year, this training was changed to be more interactive and engaging for those attending, using actual OTMs (that had been edited to remove names) to show trainees how OTMs were judged. This training was also shown to Resident Assistant staffs and the RA Council for the first time this year.
- Recognition of nominators: Starting in the Spring semester, the Recognition Committee has begun to announce during NRHH General Body Meetings the names of Chapter members that wrote winning OTM awards. The Committee also selects one nomination each month that they feel was the most outstanding across all categories. This “Of The Month Of The Month” is printed out and passed around during General Body meetings to demonstrate what a quality OTM looks like. It is our hope that this will help to inspire NRHH members to continue to write outstanding OTMs

With all of these new efforts, the effect on UMBC’s OTMs is not only clearly visible but outstanding. In March, the total number of OTMs received during this academic year (July-June) exceeded our total from the previous year. During most months this academic year, we have received more OTMs than the same month in the previous academic year. The only exceptions were in November, where we received the same number of nominations as in November 2009, and in December and January, where we received fewer nominations. This is not unexpected, however, as we do not require NRHH members to submit OTMs in December or January, and most of our membership is not living on campus during that time due to UMBC’s Winter Session. Quantity is not the only improvement we’ve noticed, but also quality. In the 2009-2010 academic year, UMBC received two Regional Winners and no National Winners. Already through March 2011, we have been awarded eight Regional Winners and two National Winners.

Programming and Leadership

For the Adopt-a-Family wrapping party, we decorated a classroom in one of our residence halls with giant paper snowflakes, streamers, and paper lanterns. A large inflatable penguin also sat nearby ready to throw snowballs at gift wrappers.

project for the entire residential campus, including four apartment communities and six residential hall communities. At the completion of the program, we hosted a wrapping party for all of the gifts for the families. We also provided warm treats and all of the wrapping supplies to residents that wanted to participate in more than just donating. In addition, we spent a day at Anna's House (our partner organization for this project) with all of the families, especially the children. We made our own homemade pizzas and played many games. We also helped the children decorate cards for their families in light of the holiday season. Overall, the program was a huge success and extremely fulfilling for our general body members.

Another tradition that we have created in our chapter is our peanut butter and jelly sandwich making parties. We choose one general body meeting every semester to incorporate service into our membership. This year, we have involved the Resident Student Association by hosting a second sandwich making party during their general body meeting. It allows us to bond UMBC NRHH Building Block Award

Service

A large part of our Chapter programming falls into the area of service projects. We have worked diligently to provide a variety of service projects on and off campus to our general membership. In the previous year, most of our service projects were restricted to NRHH members and did not influence the larger community. This year, the NRHH Executive Board decided to resurrect a traditional project sponsored by the Office of Residential Life for many years. We led the Adopt a Family Service with each other while making sandwiches. We then donate all of the sandwiches to a homeless shelter to use for lunches. It is a very simple gesture, but an amazing service opportunity because it reminds us of the little things that make life worthwhile. In order to continue influencing the UMBC community we have even further adopted this event to include all interested resident students as well as RSA and our NRHH members by offering the service event just before a Community Action Board meeting in one of our first-year residence halls.

Some of our other service events that included not only our members but also the residential students were our Operation Write Home, where professionally designed cards were created to be sent overseas blank for deployed soldiers to fill out and send back home to their families as part of our efforts for National Residence Hall Month. This is a very refreshing service event because most of the cards that are sent overseas are already filled out and only show that there are students concerned for the soldiers. These cards don't just show that we care but they also help create an open line of communication to the soldiers' families.

NRHH Members have fun while making greeting cards to send to deployed troops during Operation Write Home.

Leadership

We have decided, as the top one percent of residential leaders, that providing growth opportunities in leadership for our members is very important. In the past, this has been an area of great concern because we do induct the top one percent of leaders; it is difficult to encourage growth in leaders that are already amazing. Therefore, instead of focusing directly on leadership this past year, we decided to design a Fall Chapter Retreat that incorporated the meaning and history of NRHH. We divided the work for the retreat among the Executive Board. Each member was charged with creating an icebreaker or activity and a part of the information. We began the retreat with a reflection about the past year and the importance of togetherness. Then, we spent time reviewing expectations of an active chapter member and the expectations for future growth. General members were able to spend quality time with each other in an informal way as well as learn about the pillars of NRHH.

It was also a time for the Executive Board to step back and evaluate the future progress of our chapter. Therefore, we felt comfortable challenging our general body to make improvements for this academic year. Some of the challenges included defining committee requirements and goals for the semester. Every committee member was assigned a job title, too. This allowed the members to take ownership of their position in the committee. It also allowed the Executive Board members to delegate extra activities to the membership. We were able to provide leadership opportunities on a small scale.

Chapter President Lauren Hartsky answers questions as part of an icebreaker activity during our Fall Retreat.

For our Spring Retreat we decided to rededicate our focus to leadership because our focus at the last retreat was mostly a review into the history of NRHH. The majority of the Retreat consisted of two specific leadership activities. Both activities required the members to evaluate their own leadership styles, and deduce how they could improve or change themselves to become better leaders. The first activity called for the members to choose from a sample of quotes placed on the wall and stand underneath one of them. There were some quotes that had several different people standing underneath them. Each member was then prompted to discuss what their quote meant to them and how they could personally relate to it. By participating in this activity, everyone was able to listen to different perspectives of the same sayings and how each different member is more likely to perform as a leader themselves. The second activity was a more in-depth reflection of ones own personal leadership style. Those participating had to imagine themselves leading a group of people through some activity and decide what percentage of their energy they would spend on specific leadership qualities such as delegation, “care-frontation,” inspiration, etc. After completing the individual sheets, an open discussion began where everyone was given the chance to share how they divided their energy and why they did so, eventually leading to a conclusion that everyone has their own leadership style and that there is no perfect leader, just that so many different styles work for different reasons based on the situation presented.

Growth of the Chapter

Overall, our NRHH chapter has shown tremendous progress in recognition, service, and leadership. We have been able take small steps and big leaps from a year of slow progress and struggles in leadership in all aspects of our membership. The greatest achievement of this past year has been to bring the membership closer, while continuing to focus on the pillars of NRHH. Our pillars are our foundation, but the membership brings the pillars into action. We have proven over the past year to be leaders in service and recognition. We have grown as leaders, specifically in character. Most importantly, we have been able to fill the missing piece of our Chapter: the meaning behind everything we do. It is said that NRHH is the top one percent of residential campus leaders. This is true. However, it is also true to say that NRHH is a family of residential leaders, growing and changing together. We support each other through struggles in our academic courses, as well as conflicts in every day college life. We provide a community where leaders can share best practices and the hardships of leading fellow peers. We may be limited in number, but the top residential leaders at UMBC are not short in passion.

Dear NACURH, Inc. National NRHH Building Block of the Year Committee,

It is with great honor that the CAACURH region supports University of Maryland Baltimore County's bid for the National NRHH Building Block of the year award. As the CAACURH Associate Director for NRHH and Recognition, I have extensively worked with UMBC's NRHH Chapter and they have made extraordinary strides in their commitment to the pillars.

During the annual No Frills Conference at Miami University, the NRHH Representatives of CAACURH selected UMBC as the Regional award recipient. UMBC stood out over the other deserving candidates due to their ability to demonstrate their improvements from previous years and the depth of their bid. University of Maryland Baltimore County was chosen by the NRHH Representatives to be endorsed by CAACURH on the national level.

I trust that you will find University of Maryland Baltimore County a superb candidate for the recipient of the National NRHH Building Block Award. I am very proud to be able to give CAACURH's support to them for their outstanding work. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Vicki Forcina

Dear CAACURH NRHH Representatives:

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter to support the CAACURH NRHH Building Block Award for UMBC. This year NRHH has had a truly remarkable year. They started the year with a great leader and executive board, set clear goals and strived to meet and exceeded each one of those goals. Thus, I believe they are most deserving of this award. In reviewing the criteria categories for the award I would like to highlight several of their accomplishments.

- Planning and execution of the Adopt-a-Family program; previously run by Residential Life, NRHH took over this program and it went very well, providing gifts and food to families in need at Anna's House.
- Increased membership and publicity; inducting nine new members and two honorary members this past semester, bringing our active membership total up to 26 out of a possible 37 (historically their active membership has been much lower) They advertised much more and did great outreach to the broader campus community. This not only increased membership, but showcased the organization to the campus.
- Unveiled a newly designed website. Further, they have developed mechanisms for constant updates.
- They have increased conference involvement: the majority of the students attending the recent Regional Conference at College Park were NRHH members or were soon to be inducted into the Chapter; together these delegates worked to present the only NRHH-related program at the conference, and they were awarded with a Top 10 Program award for their efforts.
- Increased recognition: they have made substantial improvements to our OTM program, resulting in both a much higher number of nominations and a much higher number of Regional and National Winners; during the past six months, they have been awarded six Regional Winners and two National Winners. They received two Regional Winners all of last year, and our last National Winner before this semester was in 2008. We are also recognizing NRHH Members with CARP (Caring And Responsible Person) awards, and are recognizing CABs with new awards as well.
- They added more categories to the OTM selection. This resulted in more recognition to under appreciated staff and broadened the scope of NRHH's outreach.

- They also conducted Constitution and Bylaw updates by amended their constitution to ensure that it accurately reflects current practices within their Chapter, and to allow the addition of bylaws that will allow future Executive Boards easier ability to change day-to-day operations of our Chapter, such as the requirements for active membership.

It is to be noted that NRHH at UMBC started off the year with a new advisor, a new sense of energy and hit the ground running and have not come up for air since.

The outreach to the campus community has been noteworthy. Outreach and education of NRHH's role has included UMBC's Resident Student Association, Residential Life Office as well as to the larger campus community. NRHH members have attended many staff and community meetings in an effort to let residents know the work of NRHH.

Although NRRH nationally looks to use the OTM as a way to recognize, and we embrace that method and have made great strides and contributions in this area, our chapter takes it a step further. They have made signs and delivered thank you's around campus. It is such a nice touch, which means so much to those staff that work so hard.

The UMBC NRHH chapter has been extremely productive this year and is deserving of this recognition. Best wishes in your selection.

Sincerely,

Katherine Boone
Director of Residential Life

Dear CAACURH Regional Board of Directors,

I am writing to show my support for the UMBC National Residence Hall Honorary bid for the Building Block Award. I currently serve as the Advisor for the NRHH Chapter here at UMBC, and have worked closely with the organization throughout this past year. I have seen the leadership skills among the officers grow, and have seen the organization overcome a number of challenges it has faced when starting off the year. They've truly worked hard to improve the service they offer to our campus and local community, to recognize the amazing accomplishments of their fellow UMBC students and staff members, and to develop closer connections with our school's Resident Student Association and Office of Residential Life.

As the bid outlines, the UMBC NRHH Chapter has taken on a number of large-scale service projects including a service program that was formerly organized by professional staff members in the Office of Residential Life. Due to a staffing shortage and the amount of time this project required, the Residential Life department was unable to organize this program last year. The leadership and membership of this year's NRHH chapter stepped up to assist with this program so that this important opportunity for our campus to serve was not lost.

You will also see in the bid evidence of increased membership and recognition, including a significant number of 'Of The Month' nomination submissions and Campus, Regional and National winners. This year there was increased participation by NRHH members in the Regional Conference at College Park, and their program at that conference was the sole NRHH-themed program submission in the Region.

One of the greatest accomplishments that I, as Advisor, have seen this year has been the the hard work this chapter put into updating the organization's constitution. Anyone who has taken on the challenge of updating a constitution knows that the tedious phrasing and intricate wordsmithing requires a tremendous amount of attention to detail. The leaders of UMBC's NRHH Chapter took this challenge head on, despite the fact that few would have faulted them simply passing the problem of an outdated constitution on "until next year." This type of initiative shows true leadership and is symbolic of the initiative I have seen this organization model all year long.

It is for the above reasons, and a host of others that I strongly support the UMBC NRHH Chapter's bid for the Building Block Award. Thank you for your consideration,

Doug Copeland

National Residence Hall Honorary UMBC Chapter

April 14, 2011

To the National Board of Directors,

It is with great honor and privilege that I write this letter of support for the UMBC Chapter of NRHH for the Building Block of the Year Award. Each member has put forth a great amount of effort in the past year to transform this chapter into a membership with a sense of responsibility to recognition and service on campus. I am proud to say that I lead such a responsible and motivated group of student leaders.

As an executive board member of NRHH last year, it was extremely disappointing to me see the organization begin to fall apart and lose its focus in the residential community, as well as its connection with the Resident Student Association. It was entering this year as President that I had higher expectations and goals for the advancement of this organization well beyond just a membership. Seeing NRHH rejuvenated this year has been motivating and inspiring for the executive board and myself.

It is extremely easy to see by the numbers of members, OTMs submitted, and programs completed that NRHH has drastically improved, but I think the biggest transformation I have seen in the organization is in the commitment and passion in the members. Each NRHH member truly wants to make the UMBC campus a better place, as well as recognize the efforts of each other. Efforts like doubling our OTM numbers, planning the largest service events on campus this past fall, encouraging membership development, and continuing to induct strong leaders into our membership proves our eligibility for this award.

With the effort of these individuals, NRHH is back to being a known organization and members can take pride once again in the organization. With building the connections and creating traditions, this past year could not have possibly gone any better. We now look to the future with passionate members that we hope can continue to grow and develop as student leaders. This year has provided a challenging opportunity to be an amazing year for NRHH. We, as an organization, are certainly on our way to achieve our goals and objectives for many years to come.

I remark with the highest regards about these individuals that repeatedly prove to be valuable NRHH members. NRHH most certainly has reaped the intrinsic rewards that the organization offers and it is my hope that their efforts can be recognized extrinsically as well. It is with these remarks that I pass onto you my highest recommendation for the UMBC Chapter of NRHH to receive the NRHH Building Block of the Year Award for NACURH 2010-2011.

Sincerely,

Dear CAACURH RBD:

We are writing in support of Lauren Hartsky's bid for Associate Director for NRHH and Recognition for the Regional Board. As the advisors to the Resident Student Association, we have had the luxury of watching Lauren in her role as an outstanding student leaders and RSA/NRHH executive board member. We are thoroughly amazed with the different skills and talents she exhibits, along with her ambition to enhance her leadership skills by getting involved on the RBD level. With the past semester, Lauren has acted as Director of Service and Recognition within RSA and President of NRHH, stepping up from being a general body member within both groups. Furthermore, she continues to contribute to the development of a strong community through her position as a resident assistant. Through these roles she has been instrumental in building respect and strengthening the influence RSA and NRHH has on our campus community.

We are extremely impressed with her enthusiasm and dedication to the residential community and more specifically NRHH. She has exhibited strong administrative and leadership skills, lead this year's NRHH through three successful service programs, and brought recognition of programs and individual accomplishments to a whole new level. This year we have seen tremendous growth in the relationship RSA and NRHH and that can only be attributed to Lauren's dedication to her position and purpose of the two organizations. The excitement we see Lauren exhibit from attending conferences, such as CAACURH, No-Frills, and NACURH, is refreshing and would be a great asset to the CAACURH RBD Team.

We have been proud to witness Lauren grow as a student leader and continue to serve UMBC with dedication and motivation. Her dedication to our residential community and the NACURH organization are evident by her stepping up into these roles during her senior year at UMBC, when many other students would set their sights on graduation and moving on, Lauren is focused on what her legacy here will be. Our personal experiences working with both the NGB and RBD through hosting different conferences in the NACURH, CAACURH and NEACURH regions, shows our commitment in the support of resident student leaders. Lauren Hartsky is a person who exhibits the skills and commitment necessary to fulfill the responsibility as a RBD member and we offer full financial and emotional support in her bid for Regional Director of the CAACURH RBD.

If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact either of us at (410) 455-3932.

Sincerely,

To the National Board of Directors:

I am writing this letter to show my enthusiastic support for the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC) bid for NRHH Building Block of the Year. Over the past few years, this NRHH has become a cornerstone of the residential community at UMBC. This year in particular, NRHH has become a strong presence, spreading the desire to recognize and serve others. It is difficult for me to articulate just how much NRHH has been able to achieve over the past year. This group of individuals has proven that through the unyielding dedication and support of extraordinary leaders, you can accomplish anything.

Throughout the year, NRHH has increased its efforts to uphold the pillars of the organization. New recognition initiatives have been instituted above and beyond the traditional OTMs. OTMs themselves have received more focus, with more categories tailored to UMBC, as well as increased awareness throughout campus. This year, UMBC has seen more OTMs submitted and has had more OTMs receive regional and nation recognition. NRHH has also implemented new awards to recognize outstanding efforts within the Resident Student Association (RSA), Community Action Boards (CAB), the residential community, as well as within NRHH itself.

The service arm of NRHH has also grown stronger over the past year. More focus has been placed on on-campus service, even though traditionally, service events on campus have proven to be more difficult. The biggest accomplishment in terms of service so far this year, which I was lucky enough to have participated in, was the campus wide Adopt-a-Family holiday event. This month long event required immense amounts of planning, effort, and support from nearly the entire residential community, and it was done flawlessly. Since then, NRHH has not lost any momentum. The amount of service opportunities for residents has increased dramatically. For example, NRHH has taken National Residence Hall Month to heart, sponsoring two additional on-campus service events as well as countless recognition and promotional initiatives during the month of April.

I have had the pleasure to work closely with NRHH as RSA President in order to strengthen the ties between our organizations. Not only have we been able to achieve every goal our two organizations set early in the year, but we are now stronger than we have ever been. Because of the great effort by such amazing leaders, we have been able to lay the foundation for a great relationship in the future. And we are not even finished. RSA and NRHH are sponsoring two events during the last week of classes alone. The first being the RSA/NRHH Banquet, which recognizes outstanding RSA and NRHH members and initiatives throughout the year. The last cosponsored event scheduled for this year is Donation Day, where students are able to donate clothes, books, ect that they do not wish to take back home. Among this year's accomplishments, NRHH and RSA have cosponsored multiple service events, brought recognition back to the forefront of the Resident Student Association, and we have created a strong friendship between members.

It has been an honor to work with these dedicated individuals this year. I cannot imagine anymore more deserving of recognition.
