

UMBC REVIEW

Deadline Extended: September 26, 2015

You can publish your work!

Are you engaged in groundbreaking work in a lab, on a research paper, in a class project?

Would you like to have your work published?

What we are looking for:

- Exciting research results communicated in an accessible way
- A thesis that is clearly stated; an opening that provides a compelling introduction to the topic
- A conclusion that addresses the larger implications of the research
- Good writing with few punctuation, grammar, spelling, and usage errors

Your submission should be:

- A paper between 10 and 30 pages long
- In the citation style for your discipline (MLA, APA, Chicago)
- About research completed at UMBC as an undergraduate student (You may submit your paper after you graduate.)
