Exhibit - From Whom It Stands: The Flag and the American People
Reginald F. Lewis Museum

This exhibition chronicles the communities and individuals who pointedly have asked the question: For Whom Does the Flag Stand? From pride to protest, the flag of the U.S. has been used to express the views of the nation's people. Visit rflewismuseum.org for details.

February 4 - March 8, 2015

Play - Ruined

Everyman Theatre

"Ruined" transports you into the Congo where the shrewd and savvy matriarch-turned-businesswoman Mama Nadi struggles to hold on to her one safe refuge - a brothel - as the world around her disintegrates into war, with women's bodies too often as the battleground. Visit everymantheatre.com for more details.

Note: This calendar is produced by Student Life's Mosaic: Center for Culture and Diversity. If we missed adding your organization, office or department's event, please send us the details, mosaic@umbc.edu and we'll be happy to add them to our online version of this calendar. (On and off-campus events are welcomed.)
